INTERNATIONAL UNION OF OPERATING ENGINEERS LOCAL 139

A tall lattice boom crane stands on a snowy field. The background features a dense forest of evergreen trees under a cloudy sky. The crane is positioned on the left side of the frame, extending vertically towards the top. The ground is covered in snow with some sparse vegetation visible.

EDITION 2024

HOURS CONTINUE TO INCREASE AS THE PUSH FOR 2025 BEGINS

Last year, our funds closed the books with a record amount of work hours reported by our contractors. We have not yet closed our books for the 2024 season, but I am able to report to you that we are on pace to exceed last year's record number of hours. While the 2024 work season started out like a monsoon, the entire mid-season was like a drought. As a result, and despite all the highway work that was let this year, many of our asphalt paving crews got caught up with their workload and the season slowed down earlier than usual. Rumor has it that some of these hard workers got to enjoy some Saturdays off this fall. Typically, our paving members view layoff time as being around the opening weekend of the gun season for deer hunting. If you got laid off and you still wanted to get some weeks in, I sure hope you put your name on the Out of Work List, because it is lower right now than it was last year at this time. On the other hand, if you got laid off a little early and you just want to catch your breath after all those long weeks, you earned that as well.

IUOE General Vice President*

For the members who would like to brave through the long, cold winter, there are a lot of projects that are going to carry on throughout the state. Most of them are related to renewable energy, low carbon energy, and data centers. In last year's Christmas newsletter, I was marveling at the number of solar fields that we managed to go union. In 2024, we managed to take it even further with our utility partners by securing a signed document that includes all of Wisconsin's utilities pledging that all this renewable energy work will be done union! That document is the only one of its kind in the United States of America and it is a testament to what can be accomplished when we work together to clear a pathway so we may continue this type of work well into the future. One of the largest battles we will face in 2025 will be defending the use of natural gas to power many of the turbines at our existing generating plants. That's right, in 2024, environmentalists formed a coalition to oppose the use of natural gas to fuel our generating plants in place of coal. This is real! They were already successful this year in shutting down the largest natural gas line restoration project ever in downtown Chicago. I'm not sure if these groups are fully aware of what it takes to maintain the type of baseload it takes to power a data center (or heat their home this winter) and no matter how much they may close their eyes and wish it were possible right now through the renewable energy grid, it is simply not yet possible. To give you an idea of that type of draw, a data center being proposed near the old Three Mile Island nuclear site has announced its intentions of renovating and re-opening the site with the latest nuclear technology for the sole purpose of powering its data center.

So, our challenges for 2025 are to continue to improve our highway infrastructure program, continue our lead pipe replacement and telecommunications programs, continue to push forward on the renewable energy sites and natural gas distribution so we can continue to fight for the expansion of all data center work throughout the State of Wisconsin. These are the challenges we face for 2025 so we can continue to assure our members that we will continue to see a robust workload for next season and beyond. Make no mistake, we would not have the clout to accomplish what we do within our state and throughout the industry without our membership supporting our PAC program. That is the backbone of our strength, and you are what makes us a strong and influential advocate for our industry. And so, to all of our brothers and sisters, Merry Christmas, Happy New Year, and let's get after our industry goals for 2025!
